Redwood Falls, Minn.

Redwood Falls, Minn., is located in the heart of one of the richest agricultural regions in the United States. The 1905 census shows it to have a population of 1,806, and compared with the census of previous years a steady growth is shown. But at the present time the country surrounding the city is far ahead of the latter. Fine farms are seen on every hand. They are large tracts and are destined, inside of ten years, to be cut up into much smaller farms, owing to the price of farm land steadily advancing. Five years from now the crowded population of the east and the central south will be looking for homes, and in the search present Redwood county $50 per acre lands will jump to $75 and $100 per acre, and the farms will decrease correspondingly in acreage. With this certainty of smaller and many more farms the city of Redwood Falls must increase in population rapidly. An old Redwoodite who has just returned from a 20 years' tour of the world, predicts that in ten years the city will have 5,000 happy people within its border, and he proposes to hold his property here until that time. Small manufacturers are wanted and proper encouragement will be given to those which can thrive and help the community. Come to Redwood Falls.

The judicial seat of the county, is located on the Zumbro river, which supplies fine water power, and on the C & N W and C G W Rys, 90 miles s e of St Paul and 98 s e of Minneapolis. It was first settled in 1854, incorporated in 1858, and is now an important city in the s e part of the state. It is governed by a mayor and board of aldermen. Among the manufacturing and business interests of the place may be mentioned flour and feed mills, a large brewery, condensed milk, carriage, camera and glove factories, a foundry, 5 grain elevators, a theater, a city and 2 public halls, 2 libraries, 3 national banks, 2 daily and 2 weekly newspapers, and several hotels. The educational and religious facilities of the city are ample, and consist of 11 churches, representing the Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, Congregational, Episcopal, Universalist, Catholic, Evangelical, Christian, German Methodist, and Lutheran denominations, good graded and normal schools and a business college. The city is also the location of the Rochester State Hospital and a hospital conducted by the Sisters of St Francis. ST CLOUD. Pop, 9,422. Stearns county. This flourishing incorporated city, the judicial seat of the county, is located on the w bank of the Mississippi river, on the N P Ry and on the St C & F F div of the G N Ry, at the junction of the St C & W line and the C & H brs of the same road, and 76 miles n w of St Paul. It is governed by a mayor and a board of aldermen. St Cloud is the supply and shipping point for a large section of the surrounding country, and among its manufacturing and business establishments are 3 planing mills, 2 breweries, 2 flouring mills, 4 extensive granite quarries, 4 banks, 2 daily newspapers, the Times and Journal-Press, and 5 weeklies, the Anzieger, Journal-Press, Nordstern, Times and Farmers' Herald, are published. Several hotels cater to the needs of the traveling public, and all the various trades and professions are well represented. The river here furnishes power for various manufacturing establishments, utilizing 800 of the 1,500 horsepower available. This city is the site of one of the five state normal schools, which occupies an imposing and handsome structure, erected at a cost of $75,000. The Ladies' Home in connection with the Normal School is a handsome building. The Minnesota State Reformatory is also situated here. Eleven church edifices, representing the Episcopal, Presbyterian, Congregational, Methodist, Baptist, Catholic, Lutheran, Unity and Evangelical denominations, are sustained. Besides the state normal school there are 5 graded public and 3 parochial schools, an opera house, also a U S land office. St Cloud was incorporated as a town in 1856, and as a city in 1868, and now has a Carnegie public library building, gas, water works, electric lights and electric street cars. Land in the adjacent country is eminently adapted for agricultural purposes, and is worth $10 to $20 per acre for unimproved, and $25 to $100 for improved farms. The exports consist of wheat lumber, granite, and the various articles manufactured here. Telephone service. Exp, G N and N P. Tel, W U. Mail, daily. James A Martin, P M.

The Pokegama Tuxedo Club.

Tuxedo, Pine County, Minnesota.

—— INCORPORATED IN NORTH DAKOTA. ——

A Gentleman's Family Club to solve the Summer Outing problem, located on the west shore of Lake Pokegama, on the former site of Bergman's Pokegama Park Hotel, 6 miles northwest of Pine City.

Lake Pokegama, abutting on Snake River, is about seven miles long, and Hon. Moses E. Clapp, U. S. Senator from Minnesota, declares that it is "Absolutely without a rival—separate and distinct in a class by itself."

The shores are beautifully wooded and the beach is gently sloping and sandy, affording the best of bathing facilities. It is a celebrated location for the immediate relief of Hay Fever. All kinds of game fish are found in abundance in both the Lake, Snake River, Mission and Pokegama Creeks. The fall shooting is excellent. Take the Northern Pacific Railway to Pine City, and the Club Steamer will meet you there. Send for illustrated Brochure. For particulars address the Secretary.

A Great Organization

The Outcome of Experience
Expenditure and Enterprise

An existance of SIXTY-FIVE years has enabled

The Mercantile Agency, R. G. Dun & Co.

To acquire an experience, and accumulate a capital, which give it the ability to fulfill in the highest degree the duties devolving upon it.

A fact of primary importance is that the extent of the business of this agency, and the number of its subscribers is greater than that of all competitive concerns combined.

Its large number of Branch Offices, now numbering one hundred and ninety, give it facilities for gathering and revising its information not possessed by other agencies not represented by local offices.

One and a Half Million Traders Reported.

The Agency has upon its records reports of the character and capacity of over 1,500,000 Traders in the United States and Canada.

A Complete Reference Book.

The REFERENCE BOOK contains the names, trades and location of Merchants, Traders, Manufacturers, Bankers and business men generally, with their estimated pecuniary responsibility and relative credit standing. The purpose of the Book is that of a ready reference, in the prompt decisions frequently required in matters of credit, but the ratings should always be supplemented by the detailed reports on record, because changes, corrections and variations of circumstances occur with great rapidity and frequency.

POCKET EDITIONS:--Every State and Territory is made up in separate Pocket Edition form for the use of travelers on the road. The knowledge and immediate facility which they afford are often of great value to traveling men and the houses they represent.

CLASSIFICATION OF TRADES:--For the convenience of subscribers desirous of reaching any particular line of business, a plan for the classification of various trades by distinctive signs has been adopted, which has proved very useful for the purpose of addressing circulars, catalogues, etc.

STATE MAPS:--The Reference Book is thoroughly equipped with a reliable map of each State, specially engraved for us, showing every Post Office and Railroad Station. By a simple system of reference the location of any place on the map can be readily ascertained.

TRAVELERS' MAPS:--Skeleton Route and Long Distance Maps appear in every Reference Book issued, including Pocket Editions.

POSTAL and SHIPPERS GUIDE:--A valuable Shipping and Postal Guide is furnished to each subscriber desiring it. In important railroad centres it embodies local instructions showing the railroad transportation lines taking freight from those points to any place in the country. No Guide approaches this in completeness or value, and it is indispensable to all shipping clerks.

ST. PAUL. Pop. 197,023. In Ramsey county, at the head of navigation on the Mississippi river, 12 miles below Minneapolis.

St Paul and Minneapolis are together widely and generally known as the Twin Cities, and although two separate municipalities, still they have become famous as one business center with everything in common except political boundaries. With an aggregate population of 500,000, this community now ranks as seventh in size and importance among the trade centers of the United States, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore and St. Louis being the only cities on the North American continent that exceed the Twin Cities in trade, population and wealth.

Within this favored and prosperous area are many of the largest and best institutions in the nation, and many highly interesting sights for tourists. The altitude is about 800 feet. The clear lakes and bright blue sky are the first evidence of a pure, healthful atmosphere and an invigorating climate that is destined to create the greatest and most vigorous race of men the world has ever known. The Twin Cities are on the highway between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, being 1,300 miles from the eastern seaboard and 2,000 miles from the western shores, and must of necessity soon take third place among the great trade centers of this progressive nation.

St Paul has an exceptionally favorable location. It was selected by the Indians and the first white men who visited this region as a

and for more than a third of a century it has been described by poets and the leading writers of the nation as the paradise of the tourist. It has long been known as the railroad, commercial and political center of the Northwest, and it is fast becoming famous as an educational, musical and social center and as a most desirable place of residence. In 1819 Fort Snelling was established and civilians immediately squatted on land in its vicinity, generally within the limits of the military reservation. A few years later a colony of Swiss also located in the vicinity of the Fort. The number of settlers was thus increased so largely that the military authorities insisted upon their removal from the reserve, and crossing the Mississippi, they formed the nucleus whence sprang the city of St Paul. In 1841, Father Gaultier, a young Catholic priest, was sent hither to take charge of their spiritual welfare. He built a chapel near the present intersection of Fifth and Sibley streets, which he called St Paul's, and from that the name given to the city was derived. In 1848 a p o was established.

Until 1849 the settlement grew slowly, but when the country west of the St Croix and Mississippi rivers was separated from Wisconsin, and the new territory of Minnesota was organized in 1849, this was chosen for its seat of government. The village grew vigorously, however, after being made the political center the population, which was 1,950 in 1850, becoming 10,278 in 1860, notwithstanding the terrible blow which the financial depression of 1857 inflicted. In the second decade it was again retarded for a time by the occurrence of the War of the Rebellion and the Sioux outbreak; but as these made an active market for agricultural products, and Minnesota was fortunate in having excellent crops, what seemed at first a calamity, proved advantageous to the infant state and city. In 1870 her population numbered 20,030, nearly 100 per cent gain within an interval which was regarded at its beginning as the opening of an unfortunate era. For many years St Paul has enjoyed the distinction of being the in the Northwest. A most potent factor in building up the immense jobbing trade has been the superior railroad facilities but the energy and enterprise of the multitude of jobbers must also be taken into account in this connection. There are several hundred wholesale houses, representing every line of trade, and their aggregate business amounts to about $300,000,000 annually and is still expanding, and a splendid token of its growth is the fact that many of the older houses have recently found it necessary to acquire larger buildings for the transaction of their constantly increasing business. During the past few years a number of large and costly structures have sprung up in the wholesale district, and yet there are no vacant buildings. Several of the largest and finest jobbing houses of the country were erected in St Paul during the past few years.

As to manufacturing, St Paul takes a high position among Western cities. No particular product predominates, to any great extent, although shoes and cigars rank first on the list; fur goods, paints, harness and saddlery, clothing, fire engines, soap, crackers, confectionery, syrup, cigars and tobacco, stoves, furniture, tinware, structural iron, rattan goods, trunks and valises, stained glass, brass and copper goods, elevators, twine, railway cars, leather, paper boxes, barrels, pickles, baking powder, beer, and nearly everything else is made in St Paul, and the product in these various lines is of the best quality.

The Banking Facilities

of the city are ample, there being 7 national and 4 state banks, 3 savings banks, and 3 private banks, with an aggregate capital of $7,000,000. All of these banks are now in a most solid condition. There are also a number of prosperous loan and trust companies.

The Total Assessed Valuation of taxable property in the city is $36,891,248. The tax rate for all purposes, state, county and city, is 30.6 mills. The total operating expenses are $3,124,213. Total indebtedness is $9,835,300. No city in the Northwest, except Chicago, can boast of as as St Paul. There are 7 lines of railway to Chicago and the East, 3 to Lake Superior, 3 to Manitoba and the Northwest, 5 to the Pacific Coast, 3 to the Southwest and 4 to the South. Aside from all this the city is the head of navigation on the Mississippi river.

The street railway system ranks among the best in the country. There are 15 lines with an aggregate length of over 104 miles of track. There are two lines connecting St Paul and Minneapolis and a third line is now in course of construction, another line connects St Paul and Stillwater and the lake resorts. All the cars are operated by electricity.

The Police Force

comprises 216 men, and the city is divided into five police precincts, there being a central and 4 sub-stations, all of which are provided with complete telephone and telegraph facilities and patrol wagons.

The Fire Department

has 225 men, and is finely equipped. The city owns the water works, and it is one of the best managed plants in the Union. The water supply is drawn from spring lakes in the vicinity of the city, and is pure and healthy.

St Paul Has 11 Universities and colleges, 49 public schools, 68 private schools, numerous and extensive libraries, 175 churches, well managed public and private charities, beautiful and extensive parks, and clean paved streets. Nearly all of the down town streets and the best dwelling districts are paved with asphalt. The new white marble

$4,500,000 Capitol,

the city hall and court house, which cost one million, a million dollar post-office, the numerous school buildings and the city and county hospital are the principal public buildings. Three hundred thousand dollars has just been subscribed for an auditorium, which is now in course of construction, and the same amount has been paid by public contribution for a new Y M C A building. A new theater and a hotel are also being erected, and a number of bank and large office buildings are planned. The city prides itself upon the numerous large and

including a number of skyscrapers, and some of the finest and largest jobbing houses in America. Then there are scores of that call forth admiration from visitors. St Paul is today a wealthy, prosperous city, and her outlook for the future is in the highest sense flattering. She is the pride of her citizens, and every stranger who sets foot within her boundaries unites in praising her appearance and business enterprise.

The Hotels of St Paul are Unsurpassed.

ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

Springfield, Minnesota

Rev. J. Geo. Appel
MANAGER

"St John's Hospital is built on a beautiful site on the south bank of the Cottonwood River, a short distance south-east of Springfield. The location is an ideal one for a hospital, being high and well drained, and the view is one of wide extent and of great natural beauty. Overlooking the village of Springfield and for miles away up and down the natural timber-lined banks of the Cottonwood, it takes in a scope of prairie and wood land, of farmstead, groves and village that makes a pleasing impression upon the eye of the spectator."—Advance.

The local Physicians are Competent Men. The success which we have had so far, even in very serious medical and surgical cases, proves that patients receive here the very best medical treatment and the most Careful Nursing.

Swedish movements and massage treatment given at Hospital. Arrangements for all kinds of baths as well as electric treatment.—An up-to-date Static Machine and X-RAY Apparatus in Perfect Operation.
